

CIS CREATIVE SOCIETY

>Mission

CIS Creative Society seeks to provide our students with a valuable extracurricular activity and allow them to express their creative side.

The CIS Creative Society gives students the opportunity to build confidence by exhibiting and celebrating their strengths. We aim to address important issues through the power of creativity and artistic expression. Every two months a digital publication is released, dealing with different themes, ranging from identity and culture to education and human rights.

Finally, we will collaborate with RFK Spain, creating special publications related specifically to human rights and holding related exhibition events.

>Membership

Membership is available to all undergraduate students.

>Objectives and activities

- To give our students the opportunity to express themselves artistically and showcase their talents.
- To release a bi-monthly digital publication dealing with diverse themes, from identity and culture to education and human rights.
- To address important humanitarian issues through creativity and artistic expression, while collaborating with RFK Spain to create special publication editions and hold related exhibition events.

>Contact

Stewart Merritt - smerritt@cis-spain.com